

FROM ISSUES TO ACTION[©]

*Empowering Stakeholders
Without Losing Control*

The FITA Method

Meaningful stakeholder engagement in an increasingly complex world is challenging.

This interactive session empowers stakeholders to produce an agreed solution to a significant issue without the problems usually associated with competing priorities and conflicting personalities.

Expertly designed and facilitated; the From Issues To Action[©] method works especially well with community groups managing change, teams experiencing conflict, cognitive diverse groups and intergenerational teams.

The Facilitator

Kellie Coff, MBA is a business improvement and stakeholder management specialist with qualification in Management, Accounting and Business Administration.

Kellie lectures in Human Resource Management, Business Data Analysis and Market, Social and Audience Research at La Trobe University.

Kellie is currently undertaking a PhD with the Faculty of Business and Law with Swinburne University where she is researching the Public Value of Community Leadership Programs in Regional Victoria.
